

how not to change your mind (and when to live with your mistakes)

“the graph helps shows what happens to your project if you keep changing your mind or deferring important decisions. I’ve found that people that defer decisions are often scared of completing their own projects and rarely finish them well or at all.”

Here are my messages

- take your time but don't waste any
- if you haven't got the time or money to do it right what makes you think you'll be able to do it over?
- know when its better to live with your mistakes
- don't look back, look forwards
- accept there is no certainty or guarantee of success only resolute determination to overcome problems
- changing your mind late can make a major dent in your budget and seriously effect your project's viability
